DEATH TOLL IN STATE 26,631

1909 PNEUMONIA VICTIMS NUMBERED 2,470.

TUBERCULOSIS TOOK 2,455

Vital Statistics Show Annual Birth, Marriage, and Death Rates of 21.4, 15.6, and 11.9 Per Thousand.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Feb. 5.—It was expected that the vital statistics returns for Wisconsin for 1909, like all previous reports of mortality published by the State Bureau of Vital Statistics since 1903, would show a larger number of deaths from tuberculosis than from any other disease. The records for the year, however, show that pneumonia has taken first place in the list of important causes of death. There were 15 more deaths from pneumonia for 1909 than from pulmonary tuberculosis and other forms of tuberculosis combined.

During the calendar year of 1909, 26,631 deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, were reported to the state bureau by the local registrars in the various townships, villages and cities. This gives an annual death rate for the entire state of 11.2 per thousand estimated population. If the 1,459 stillbirths reported were included, as was done in previous reports, the annual death rate would be 11.3 per thousand estimated population. Including stillbirths, 50,620 births, 28,090 marriages, 18,455 divorces, and 10,168 accidents were reported to the bureau in 1909.

These figures show an annual birth rate per thousand of 15.6, estimated according to the methods adopted and recommended by the federal census bureau of 21.4, an annual death rate of 11.9 and an annual marriage rate of 15.6.

This indicates a more complete registration of births, deaths and marriages in Wisconsin than has ever been accomplished before in the history of the state, and should answer conclusively the argument that has been made by the registrars of deaths in some counties, that such an official can collect these figures as completely as is done under the present system. The rates per thousand estimated population prove the superiority of the present system of registration over the old county system, repealed by the 1907 legislature, in the opinion of the state board.

During 1904 the annual birth rate was 15 per thousand. In 1905 and 1906 the annual rate was 18.2 per thousand, while in 1907 and 1908 the annual rate was 22.7 per thousand. The annual death rate for 1903 and 1904 was 9.8 per thousand. For 1905 and 1906 the annual death rate was 12.1 per thousand. The annual marriage rate of 14.5 per thousand for 1905 and 1906, 14.7 for 1908, and 15.6 for 1909 constitutes the only reliable data in the bureau's possession with reference to marriages. An examination of the returns received from the registrars of deaths during 1903 and 1904 shows that the marriage rate for the state as a whole does not exceed 12 per thousand, and in most cases the rate was less than 12.

Fifty thousand and fifty-nine, or 21 per cent of the total deaths reported, were of persons under one year of age. There were 1,146 deaths from diphtheria and enteritis under two years of age, and a very large per cent of the deaths from this easily preventable disease were of persons under one year of age. Eight thousand, two hundred and twenty-seven, or 31 per cent of the total deaths, were of persons 65 years old and over.

Important causes of death during the year were as follows: Pneumonia, 2,508; other tuberculosis, 377; typhoid fever, 348; diphtheria, 378; scarlet fever, 347; measles, 324; whooping cough, 156; pneumonia, 2,470; diphtheria and enteritis under two years, 1,146; meningitis, 231; influenza, 206; purpura septicaemia, 107; cancer, 1,382; violence, 1,487; and stillbirths, 1,459.

For the purpose of comparison the following deaths with their causes for the calendar year 1908 are given: Pneumonia, 2,508; other tuberculosis, 377; typhoid fever, 348; diphtheria, 378; scarlet fever, 347; measles, 324; whooping cough, 156; pneumonia, 2,470; diphtheria and enteritis under two years, 1,146; meningitis, 231; influenza, 206; purpura septicaemia, 107; cancer, 1,382; violence, 1,487; and stillbirths, 1,459.

Of the total deaths, 5,241 per cent of the deaths resulted from pneumonia; 9.2 per cent of the deaths resulted from tuberculosis, and 5.6 per cent of the deaths reported resulted from violence. Among the deaths from violence the following causes, with the number of deaths from each cause, are important and interesting: Suicide, 268; railroad accidents, 218; drowning, 140; burns and scalds, 139; gunshot wounds, 82; tetanus, 25; homicide, 26; and hydrophobia, 1. Thirty-nine deaths from anterior poliomyelitis were reported for this period of time.

During the calendar year of 1908 the following deaths from violence were reported: Suicide, 268; homicide, 21; railroad, 182; street railway, 29; gunshot, 82; burns, 9; drowning, 138; explosion, 8; falls, 11; poisoning, 10; lightning, 5; automobiles, 1; hydrophobia, 2; coal gas, 2; freezing, 4; cyclone, 2.

"The statistics presented in this report," says the bureau, "should be given wide publicity among the people of our state in order that the number of deaths from preventable diseases and other causes easily controlled may be better understood and more carefully guarded against. The greatest gain to be made in increasing the average duration of life must come in reducing the number of deaths from preventable causes and we sincerely hope that this report will arouse an active interest in this subject on the part of every citizen of the state."

CENTENARY OF OLE BULL IS CELEBRATED

Career of Great Violinist Commemorated in All of the Chief Cities of Norway.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Feb. 5.—A cable despatch from Christiania says that the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ole Bull, the famous violinist, was widely observed throughout Norway today. In Bergen, his birthplace, in Christiania, where he resided for many years, and in other of the chief cities special performances were given in the opera houses, while memorial exercises were held under the auspices of numerous musical and literary societies.

Though a Norwegian by birth, it was in the United States that Ole Bull achieved his greatest reputation, and there are still living in New York and in other cities as well many men and women who recollect the furor created by the later American tours of the celebrated violinist, then at the height of his fame.

His first visit to America was made in 1842. He remained here nearly two years and was heard in many of the principal cities. He returned to New York in 1852 and toured the country with a company of artists that included Adolph Patti (then only eight years old), his sister, Amelia Patti-Strauss, and Maurice Strauss. One of the memorable features of this tour was the visit paid by the violinist to Henry Clay at Lexington, Ky. In 1857 he returned to Europe on account of poor health.

In 1867 he again visited the United States, going directly West, and giving his first concert in Chicago. In 1869 he gave his services to the great Pacific Jubilee in Boston, conducted by Patrick M. Gilmore. When he departed for Norway the following April Senator Horace Conkling, General Grant and other notables of the day made farewell speeches on board the ravine cutter which conveyed the famous violinist to the steamship "Rusalea."

In the early twenties he made several tours of America and was heard at the Continental exposition in Philadelphia. He made several subsequent visits to this country, and married his second wife here. His final illness overtook him on his last trip from New York to Norway, his death occurring in the city of his birth, Aug. 17, 1880.

OLDEST UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT RETIRES

James Kennedy Patterson Who Has Been Head of Kentucky Institution For 40 Years Steps Down.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 5.—With the appointment this week of Judge S. Barker, former judge of the court of Kentucky, to the presidency of the State University, the oldest active university president in the United States, James Kennedy Patterson, retires to private life after more than forty years of service, during which time he has built up one of the largest and most progressive universities in the South.

President Patterson has an international reputation as an educator. Born in Scotland in 1822, he came to America when quite a lad, and early displayed those qualities of intellect and character with which he has won for himself the title of Kentucky's university builder.

In the year 1849 he was made president of the newly established Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, and since that time he has devoted his whole life to the upbuilding of this institution. It was largely due to his influence and exertions that Congress passed the Morrill Act of 1890 providing for an annual appropriation of $25,000 to each State for the further endowment of land grant colleges established under the act of 1862.

President Patterson has served as head of the American association of Agricultural Colleges and has been honored with membership in the Royal Historical society of Great Britain, the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland and other scientific and learned societies of national or international scope.

READY TO TRY BOY DESPERADO

COURT AT CORYDON, IND., OPENS NEXT WEEK.

LOST BRAVADO LONG AGO

Family Will Try To Save 17 Year Old Tom Hoal Who Shot Two Bankers and Colored Chauffeur.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Corydon, Ind., Feb. 5.—The trial of Tom J. Hoal, the youthful bandit who attempted bank robberies and committed murder in true Jesse James style, and this notwithstanding the fact that he never drank dime novels, never drank and never smoked a cigarette, is scheduled to take place before the Harrison circuit court which convenes here Monday. Since his sensational arrest in the middle of the Ohio River last November the youth has been confined in the reformatory at Jeffersonville awaiting trial. The bravado he displayed when first placed behind prison bars has long since deserted him and he is looking forward to his trial with a full realization of the fate that probably awaits him.

Hoal will be tried for the murder of J. Hargray Pawcett, who was the cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of New Albany. On the morning of November 11 last the young bandit entered the bank and after commanding everybody to throw up his hands, "and get in the vault," began shooting.

Cashier Pawcett died almost instantly after being shot through the neck and chest. John K. Woodward, president of the bank, was also shot and dangerously wounded. Following the shooting the murderer rushed from the bank and tried to make his escape in an automobile which he had taken from the curb in front of the residence of the owner. He commanded the negro chauffeur at the point of a gun to drive him down the street at top speed. But the chauffeur, paralyzed with terror and apparently incapable of action, sat still. Hoal jumped from the car and sent a bullet through the negro's body.

Turning down the river bank a distance of several blocks, the murderer ran with great speed. He quickly appropriated a siff at the dock and was on his way to the Kentucky side before the startled citizens of New Albany knew what had happened. An alarm was given through a megaphone from the dredge boat and in a short time the police had started in pursuit in a fast motor boat, had captured their man and had brought him to shore, only to confront the new peril of lynching.

By a clever ruse the police stood off the crowd that thronged the dock as the boat landed. Commanding the prisoner to lie down, the police announced that the man had taken poison and was dead, making him carry him to the patrol wagon and giving the word to drive ahead. The bandit was taken to the New Albany jail. A few moments later, to escape the mob, he was removed to the reformatory at Jeffersonville.

Hoal, who is but seventeen years old, is a son of William J. Hoal, a furniture dealer in Louisville. The family formerly lived in Knoxville, Tenn. The father and other members of the family have employed counsel and will use every effort to save the young desperado from the electric chair. It is probable that the defense will be based on a plea of insanity.

NINTH ANNUAL AUTO SHOW IN CHICAGO

The decorative scheme adopted this year is as unique as it is pleasing. The Coliseum, which is the main exhibition hall, has a forest setting, with giant pine trees and a wealth of magnificent foliage. Headaches Caused By Eyestrain

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the eye have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continued strain on these nerves keeps them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied, in that way the strain is carried to other nerves, and will, in time, exhaust them all. Properly fitted glasses will prevent this strain and give the system a chance to build up. Many have been relieved here. Why not you?

THE KISSEL KAR

"Every Inch a Car"

THE KISSEL IS THE CAR FOR YOU

We make this announcement with every assurance that—price, serviceability and beauty of design considered—the Kissel Kar represents the very topmost notch in automobile construction.

KISSEL KARS

FOR 1910 ARE CLASSIFIED AS FOLLOWS.

The 10-10 20 H. P., 10-10 30 H. P., and 10-10 40 H. P. 6-cylinder. The basis of construction of each type is a standard chassis which is adapted to several desirable styles of open and closed cars. The 10-10 or 30 H. P. is made as a five-passenger touring car and a four-passenger day tourer; the 10-10, 10-10 and 10-10 as touring, day tourer, limousine and coupe, also taxicab and as landulet on special order. The 10-10 Model has been added to meet the demand of the customer who wishes a larger car than the 10-10, yet not as large and powerful as the 10-10 40-cylinder.

The 1910 car is the development of the preceding model. The principle of construction and high standard of efficiency is unchanged. Slight changes have been made and several details improved upon, always making for the betterment of the car, as well as for the safety and comfort of the owner. Every change is an improvement justified by the past year's hard road experience and engineers' experiments.

An examination of the 1910 product will convince the most skeptical that the Kissel Kar is in a class of its own and of a type combining flexibility, strength, simplicity, efficiency, durability and elegance to a high degree.

Our line of Kissel Kars have not arrived as yet, but we expect them any day next week. At that time we shall be pleased to demonstrate the many features of the new Kissel Kars to you and assure you again that we have every reason to know that there is not a car made that is superior—at any price you might pay.

Watch for our opening announcement, which will appear in this paper later.

"S. O. S." SAVES FORTY-SEVEN LIVES

WIRELESS CALLS SPEEDS AID TO RESCUE CREW OF STEAMER KENTUCKY.

ALL ARE TAKEN OFF SAFELY

Vessel Sinks Off Cape Hatteras—Alarm of Mallory Line First to Reach Scene of Danger—Flashers Back Success of Dash.

New York, Feb. 5.—Once more the wireless has resulted in the saving of lives—this time an entire ship's crew—at a moment when those in peril had all but given up hope of reaching land. The steamship Kentucky lies at the bottom of the Atlantic ocean more than 100 miles off the coast of North Carolina, but her crew, numbering 46 men, alive and well, are on board the Mallory Line steamer Alamo making for Key West.

Wireless Averts Disaster.
It is another case of a disaster averted by wireless and told to the world by the same medium. The Kentucky, a wooden vessel of 966 gross tonnage and 203 feet long, was bound from New York to the Pacific to carry passengers between Tacoma and Alaskan ports for the Alaska Pacific Steamship Company.

First news of the Kentucky's distress was received at the United Wireless Company's station at Cape Hatteras. There the operator heard the "S. O. S." quickly followed by this message:

"We are sinking. Our latitude is 32.10, longitude 76.30."

Alamo Sparks Hope.
Almost simultaneously the operator heard the Alamo respond to the Kentucky's call for help, informing Capt. Moore that the Alamo was making all speed to the sinking vessel's assistance. Thereafter no message was received from the Kentucky, indicating that water had interfered with the power, putting her wireless apparatus out of commission.

The navy department at Washington in the meantime flashed wireless messages along the Atlantic coast, dispatching the battleship Louisiana and two revenue cutters to the scene, but at five o'clock word came from the Alamo that she had arrived safely. This is the message as received in New York by the United Wireless Company from its Cape Hatteras station:

"Latitude 32.48, longitude 76.28. Steamship Alamo has just taken Capt. Moore and crew of 46 men from sinking steamship Kentucky. Water had already reached fire room and steamship will sink before midnight. The Alamo is now proceeding to Key West."

Ship Meets Bad Luck.
Bad luck was the Kentucky's lot almost immediately after she left New York for her 14,000 mile voyage on January 23. Good luck was her lot when the wireless instruments were the last things installed before she departed. One hundred and fifty miles off Sandy Hook the vessel began lurching badly, but by working the pumps valiantly Capt. Moore was able to reach Newport News with 16 inches of water in the vessel's hold. There repairs were made and the ship received a certificate from Lloyd's and the United States Inspector at the port, saying that she was sound and seaworthy.

Notwithstanding this assurance, T. A. McLarny, formerly the night operator at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, who had shipped with the vessel when she left this port, refused to continue on the voyage because his parents at Monticello, N. Y., had a premonition that something would happen. They so bombarded him with messages to this effect that, in deference to their wishes, he obtained a substitute operator, W. D. McGinnis, who sent out the call which saved the lives of his shipmates.

The Kentucky was insured for $70,000.

CELEBRATE MOODY'S BIRTHDAY.

New Dormitory and Gymnasium Building Is Dedicated.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—"Founder's Day," the birthday of the late Dwight L. Moody, was celebrated today at Moody Bible Institute by the formal dedication of a new $75,000 dormitory and gymnasium building. Henry P. Crowell presided at the exercises and addresses were made by Judge McKenzle Cleland, several clergymen, and members of the institute faculty. A reception and luncheon preceded the dedication. The new six-story building is the first of three large additions to the institute. A woman's building to cost $150,000 will be started soon.

WELTER WEIGHTS FIGHT A DRAW

No Decision Is Given in Clabby-Sullivan Bout.

Milwaukee, Feb. 5.—A draw is the newspaper verdict of the ten-round fight last night for the welterweight championship between Jimmy Clabby of Milwaukee and Mike "Twin" Sullivan of Cambridge, Mass. The crowd thought that Clabby had a little the best of the argument.

Morningstar Is Outclassed.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 5.—That Ora Morningstar is not in the same class with Willie Hoppe as a billiard player was demonstrated last night when Hoppe ran out his 1,500 points with great ease, playing billiards all around the older man. Total score for the three nights' play: Hoppe, 1,500; Morningstar, 1,452.

THREATENS TO IMPEACH MAYOR.

Prosecutor Will Present Charges Against Gary's Executive.

Gary, Ind., Feb. 5.—Attorney Otto J. Bruce of Crown Point, Ind., appointed to assist prosecuting Attorney Charles Greenwald in the Gary "blind pig" cases, said that after the cases have been disposed of he would begin impeachment proceedings against Mayor Thomas E. Knotts of Gary on charges of malfeasance, protection of illegal places, and interference with the course of the law. The Lake county grand jury adjourned after returning 43 indictments against "blind tigers."

Spends Million in Two Months.

New Orleans, Feb. 5.—One chance in a thousand for recovery, say physicians at the Charity hospital in reporting on the condition of Lewis Tewksbury, who fell from a bootblack stand here a week ago and fractured his skull. Tewksbury is said to have spent more than a million dollars in New York in less than two months.

Any Man Can Save $49 In Twelve Months and if you were to put this $49 in a bank the bank would pay you $1.50 as interest. If you were to save this money and put it into a twenty-year endowment life insurance policy in one of the strongest Old Line companies in the world, in the fairest insurance policy in the world, you would be given back MORE MONEY AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS THAN YOU PUT IN, and your life would have been insured during all this time.

There is no chance of your policy defaulting, because it will carry itself after the third year. After the second year you can borrow enough on the policy to pay the premiums if you haven't the cash.

At the age of 32 you would be willing to pay $49.96 per year for 20 years, a total of $999.20, and at the end of that time be paid back $1,000.00 in cold cash together with your share of the earnings of the company. Insurance really costs you nothing on this endowment policy—but of course the company has the use of your money, you get back more than you pay, you get insurance all the while you are paying in—it's better than saving your money in the bank.

If you should die before the 20 years, 1000 dollars would be paid to the beneficiary.

If the policy is in force one year, it is incontestable EXCEPT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

You will share in the earnings of the company, which earnings may be applied on the premiums, or they can be made to hasten the maturity of the contract.

You can borrow money of this policy as per Table "A." At end of second year $66.00, third year $94.00, etc. You can apply the loan as payment of premium. If two or more years full premiums have been paid and there is no indebtedness on account of loans, the policy will be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured, including dividend additions, for the length of time shown in the table "A" under the column "Extended Insurance," and at the end of the 20 years the company will also pay in cash the amount in table "A" under the column "Pure Endowment." As an example:

TABLE "A"
20-YEAR ENDOWMENT—Issued at age 32.

At end of year	Cash or loan	Paid up policy	Pure endowment	Extended insurance	Years	Day

HAYNER & BEERS
JACKMAN BLOCK - JANSVILLE, WIS.

Suppose you paid four years and then stopped; you would receive 16 years of $1000 insurance and $12 in cash at the end of that time; at 5 years you get 15 years' insurance and $36 cash, etc.

If the policy should lapse for non-payment of premiums, it can be reinstated at any time within five years by paying the amount due with interest, if satisfactory evidence of insurability is furnished to the company. Suppose you become totally disabled from sickness or accident, or become blind, or if you lose both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, then your premiums on this policy stop and the company pays you one-twentieth of the policy each year until the full sum of the policy has been paid.

NO MAN CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE

Think of the benefit it would be to wife and family or mother, if you should be called by death. Think of the great amount you would get all in one sum at the expiration of the policy, and then consider that it really costs you nothing except the interest on the money you would be saving. Read over the above carefully, see how you can borrow money on the policy, how it will carry itself, how you can be reinstated within five years if you should lapse.

INSURE YOUR WIFE

and make the $1000.00 payable to your child, you will be saving just that much money and all during the twenty years your wife is insured. Every rich man is insured heavily, every poor man needs it even more.

Now is the best time to consider this matter. Every day, every month you put it off you are getting older—your rate is getting higher and no one knows when it will be too late.

Life insurance is a privilege. If it is within your reach today secure it today—tomorrow may be too late. We write the best policy in the world and with one of the strongest old line companies.

Write us to send you a sample policy so that you can read it over carefully, or if you prefer, we will call and explain the policy to you. Fill out the coupon right now.

You Can Be a "Big" Man or a Little Man

You make your choice when you choose your school. The grade and high schools give a general education, but this is the day and age of specialists. The business world is asking for young men and women who can keep a set of books correctly, write a rapid, legible hand, operate a typewriter, and write shorthand; this requires SPECIAL TRAINING. Present day business methods have worked the undoing of the UNTRAINED MAN. "Big" men are not BORN but MADE, and are proud to call themselves self-made men. Most of the men occupying the best positions in the world today can trace their beginning to a good business education in a good business school.

The Southern Wisconsin Business College.

makes a specialty of training young people to make them successful to the fullest extent.

THOROUGH INSTRUCTION plus ABILITY equals SUCCESS

A mastery of our courses is all that is needed to start any young person on the right road. Every few weeks we are sending out young people to good positions where prospects for advancement are certain.

We Place Every Graduate or Refund Tuition

Let us train you for the many positions of trust which we are called upon to fill every year.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

Employees of the sugar trust robbed the government of millions by means of a crooked spring, which was inserted in the stanchion of Uncle Sam's scales at the custom house. This spring was small enough to carry in the vest pocket and was used for more than a decade with impunity. One day the crooks were trapped. Exposure and disgrace followed. The unholly dream of wealth suddenly acquired were shattered in a moment. Exposure and disgrace followed and today the thieves face long terms in prison.

The police name for this great crime was graft. The thieves thought graft was legitimate. Through all the years an unseen, devilish hand was shaping the character of the robbers while they worked the crooked spring. They fed their minds on the stories of the success of other grafters; they buried their ideals of honor conceived at a mother's knee; and they fell into the clutches of their own aversive selves to be dragged to the doors of prison by their own hands.

There is but one royal road to success. The man worth while knows the way and the cost. The man who thinks himself a clever grafter and revels in the thought that he is beating the man who is beating another is traveling the same route that brought the employees of the sugar trust to justice. He is thrusting a knife at his own heart every time he takes a penny that does not belong to him. He is robbing his soul of its God-given sense of right and justice. His body is going to be found one of these days in the bottom that line the shores where drift the bodies of the Streuklands and Workmners.

There is but one escape for the man who has been carrying the crooked spring—take it out of his pocket and throw it away. It is a more dangerous weapon than any the law forbids us to carry. It may be used in a fit of anger, wielded when in need or touch someone's scales at the call of a friend. Man has been given almost divine powers with the agreement that he live up to the best there is in him. His sacrilegious existence lies in his failure to use the strength and talents he has and not his mistakes and blunders. His crime, too often does not in using the crooked spring, but in even having it in his possession. There is no room in the pocket for a crooked spring and there is no room in the world for the man who carries one.

experience that disobedience means punishment, and fear prompts him to falsehood. He has not yet arrived at the age of reason, and the lie with which he attempts to shield himself is not an evidence of depravity and no occasion for anxiety. He will outgrow the habit when old enough to know that truth is more satisfying than fiction.

The old theory of breaking a boy's will to compel him to tell the truth is an exploded theory. His will is a choice inheritance and properly directed it becomes an element of strength in character-building.

The young man who wills to do right puts back of his resolution, purpose and determination, and there is little occasion to worry about the outcome.

The breaking of a will means subjection by force, and the principle is the same as is adopted in prison discipline where men are tortured beyond endurance.

There is a class of men represented in every community who are known as weak men, a compliment of doubtful significance. They never have decided opinions on any proposition, and if they happen to be married the wife is always recognized as the head of the family. Trace their early history and you will find, as a rule, that they left their boyhood home with a broken will, and the habit of obedience through fear because so thoroughly fixed that they are lost without a commander.

The weak man is the product of repressed boyhood. He represents the negative and is so much of a cipher that but little account is made of him in computing the assets of a community.

The men who do things are positive. They may not always be right, but they are never standing still, for they have learned that accomplishment follows effort and they are long on effort.

The progressive man is ambitious, but what ambition will prompt him to do depends very largely on environment and the strength of character with which he is reinforced.

If directed in right channels and controlled by honest motives he becomes a factor in the making of progress and a helpful unit in the great army which is striving to better conditions.

If controlled by selfishness and greed and opportunity offers, the same ambition becomes a dangerous force for evil, and crime results.

The crooked spring in one form or another taxes ingenuity and absorbs thought and attention, and back of all the crookedness is the same God-given ambition which accomplishes so much for good when rightly directed.

The sugar trust has been freely denounced as a great criminal, and many people believe that this great corporation which has paid in damages many hundreds of millions of dollars deliberately planned to defraud the government out of $200,000 a year for ten years by furnishing an employee with a device to falsify weights.

The thought is too ridiculous to discuss, for the American Sugar company is no more responsible for the crime than a Rock county farmer.

When Mr. Loeb took charge of the New York custom house he discovered many things which had a shady appearance, and investigation proved that the place was honeycombed with government employees whose principal asset was a crooked spring.

they were bored and grieved and worried, and I do not know a Croesus who's not prematurely gray. If the rich dame had her wishes you might see her washing dishes in a cunning little cottage with a figtree near the door; if her husband had the chance he'd be selling vests and pants in the cut price rags department of the Gold Brick Clothing Store.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A DOLEFUL CHAPTER.

This is a human document—a sordid, everyday, pitiful history.

Mistake No. 1.—George F. Smith of Chicago when eighteen years of age married his wife, who was only a month younger than he. The acquaintance began at a skating rink.

Mistake No. 2.—On the nuptial day they had a cash capital of $11.05. After the wedding expenses were paid the family treasury contained $7.15. And George's weekly salary was only $8 a week.

Until the baby came they paid $5 a week for board, $2.10 for George's car fare and lunch, 70 cents for clothing and 20 cents for picture shows.

There was neither comfort nor happiness in these conditions. George did not get on. His salary remained at $8. There were bickering and trouble.

When the baby came George's romance was shattered. He deserted both wife and baby. He was arrested for wife desertion and jailed. The girl wife took her baby in her arms and went back to her home—a poor one.

And this is what George said: "When I got out of this I will shut myself out—never again! I say to all boys, don't get married."

There was no kind word for the child wife, no word of regret, no thought for the baby. Did I not say it was a sordid and pitiful document?

And, remember, this is no fancy picture, and it is typical of many such marriages.

Worse than the two mistakes this couple made was the third and vital one.

They did not really love each other. Oh, I do not mean they did not care for each other in a way. I mean there was no real affection on either side—I mean the affection that abides, that counts no hardship too great, no sacrifice too severe, for love's great sake.

They made a mistake in marrying too young, but that was not a serious one. They made a mistake in beginning married life with so little money, but that might have been remedied if George had been ambitious and energetic and courageous and self-sacrificing.

But the lack of love was fatal. Poor child wife! Poor baby! Yes, and poor George—weak and a coward! One may photograph the picture and almost see "the flash" of boy and girl and baby.

It is these doleful chapters in our modern human life that make sad the heart of every lover of his kind.

The Best Economy in Piano Buying

Let others buy the cheap pianos.

For your instrument, choose one which will give you years of service after the inferior ones have outlived the little usefulness they ever may have had.

Of course, you will have to pay more for a good piano—but is it not economy to do so and assure yourself of permanent satisfaction?

Beware the lure of unreasonably low price. Rest your decision on the value offered and remember that the very cheap piano means cheap construction, inferior tone and only temporary usefulness.

Do not permit yourself to indulge in the extravagance of "saving" a few dollars now to take the chance of dissatisfaction after you have spent your money.

You can get an idea of what piano value means by inspecting our collection. You can buy an instrument here at a price as low as a good one can be sold for. Furthermore, you will find that we have graded our prices consistently with the relative worth of our pianos. Therefore you can make your selection to the very best advantage whatever sum of money you may wish to invest.

Improvements For Artificial Teeth

I am making beautiful and practical sets of teeth these days. If your old plate is loose and flitting it probably is because your gums shrink away. A new impression will give you teeth a nice tight fit. Don't put up any longer with the continual annoyance of your misfit teeth.

How would you like the appearance of a perfect gold filling in one of the front teeth of your artificial set?

It makes them look natural and adds to the beauty and attractiveness of your personal appearance. I can do this work skillfully. The cost is not much and the improvement is wonderful.

STOCK SUBSCRIPTION FOR NEW AUTO FACTORY IS SLOW.

BUT HALF SUM NEEDED

Has As Yet Been Subscribed—Other Cities May Seek the Location.

Unless the fifty thousand dollars needed in stock subscription for the proposed automobile factory is raised within a few days it is possible that some of the other cities interested in the proposition may land the plant that is now offered to Janesville. That fact is understood not more than half the sum needed has been subscribed and the remainder of the stock offered, while partially promised, has not yet been disposed of.

It is an opportunity for Janesville to secure a factory that is already in operation and which will grow rapidly. Men who have examined the proposition speak most highly of the company's financial standing and of the car they manufacture. It is one of the few propositions that are offered to a city like Janesville that does not need development or money for experimental purposes.

The car they manufacture is for commercial use and from actual demonstration is shown to be a fine vehicle. This line of the automobile business as yet is in its infancy and the rapid development of the other lines of cars show that its future is most promising.

The company is now located in Chicago and is doing all the business they can handle. In fact, an order for a hundred cars, with the advance premium was received, since the proposition was made to the Janesville business men, and several eastern buyers are now in Chicago to look over the car with a view of placing large orders. The company has many cars now under process of construction and has promised others for immediate delivery.

Unless Janesville gets busy and brings the company here it is probable that other cities which seek new factories will succeed in inducing the company to locate there. It is too good an opportunity to lose and the business men of Janesville should recognize the importance of bringing it here if it is possible.

It will employ seventy-five skilled workmen to begin with and will increase its working force as rapidly as its business demands it. The company is ready to move to Janesville at once and begin work for the summer deliveries. It has a large exhibit at the auto show now going on in Chicago, and has been most favorably commented on by the automobile writers in the magazines and newspapers.

The committee in charge of the stock subscription list, James Fisher, M. O. Mount and Fred Bellhartz, still have hope that the necessary amount of stock will be subscribed in time to save the factory for the city.

J. HAMILTON LEWIS TO ADDRESS THE BAR ASSOCIATION

Distinguished Chicago Attorney Whose "Pink" Whiskers Have Been Made Famous by Paragraphs, Comes Here Feb. 28.

J. Hamilton Lewis, former city attorney of Chicago, noted corporation counsel, one of the literary, a famous raconteur, and a distinguished politician who has been mentioned in some quarters as the logical national standard bearer of the democratic party in 1912, will be the speaker of the evening at the annual banquet of the Rock County Bar association at the Hotel Myers, Monday evening, February 28. In accepting the engagement, the standing committee consisting of F. C. Burpee, Claude J. Hendrick, Louis Avery, M. P. Richardson, and L. L. Maxfield, was materially aided by the good services of General Counsel George Peck of the C. M. & St. P. railroad and General Counsel E. M. Hyzer of the C. & N. W. railroad, both former practitioners at the Janesville bar and members of the local association. Therefore it has been customary to have several speakers on the program, but on this occasion the entire evening will be given over to one, Mr. Lewis recently returned from a tour of the world and will speak on one of the phases of the "Eastern Question."

BROTHERS WHO HAD NEVER MET, UNITED

Charles Kilmer of Afton Visited by Older Brother Whom He Had Never Before Seen.

Charles Kilmer of the town of Rock was most delightfully surprised last week by a visit from two of his brothers, John, who lives in Winona, Minn., and Milton, who lives in Chicago, Illinois. Considerable interest attaches to the event, as it was the first time that Mr. Kilmer had ever seen his brother, John. Charles Kilmer comes of a family of sixteen, many of whose members were quite well known in this city. John is the oldest and Charles the youngest, and neither had seen the other, the older brother leaving home two years before the birth of Charles. John Kilmer is 76 years of age, Milton 71, and Charles 49. Of the family of sixteen, five others besides the three are now living, three in New York, one in Michigan and one in Minnesota. John and Milton Kilmer visited at their brother's home about a week and before their departure for their homes the three went to a photograph gallery and had their pictures taken.

BELOIT MAN DIED OF OVER-DRINKING

Ben Welch, Once Wealthy Resident of Sharon, Found Dead in Room Over a Saloon.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Beloit, Feb. 5.—Ben Welch, aged 55, was found dead in bed in a room over a saloon in the lower part of the city today. Physicians say that his death was due to alcoholic poisoning and he had probably been dead twenty-four hours. Welch came here from Sharon, a few years ago and was well-to-do, owning considerable property. Of late years he has been leading a dissipated life in Janesville and Beloit and has been drinking heavily.

The farmhouse of William Moody in Sharon, west of Beloit, on the farm known as the Morgan farm, was burned this morning. The fire began at the top of the structure. It was fought for a considerable time and at one time it was thought to have been put out.

K. OF C. PLANS FOR BALANCE OF WINTER

Dr. H. O. Delancy of Beloit to Lecture Here Next Thursday—Washington's Birthday Program.

Carroll Council No. 596, Knights of Columbus, plans to devote several evenings of the present winter to discussions by speakers, both from within and outside of its membership, of topics of current interest and importance.

Next Thursday evening, Feb. 10, Dr. H. O. Delancy of Beloit, who is a close student of matters hygienic and a forceful and interesting talker, will deliver an address here upon "Fresh Air and the Health of the People." Twenty-five or more Knights from Beloit are expected to accompany him and listen to the address.

Washington's birthday will be celebrated in a fitting manner with a program that is now being arranged and will be announced in the course of a few days. Some time in March, Dr. T. L. Harrington of Milwaukee, one of the leading physicians of the metropolis, will deliver a notable lecture on "The Social Body." The lecture, which has attracted more than statewide attention, will be complimentary to all men and boys over sixteen years of age.

Carroll Council is in its tenth year and now has a membership of over two hundred. It is apparently gaining steadily not only in numbers but also in its influence. While its educational work is made a most prominent feature, purpose, and end, the social side is by no means being neglected.

All members of Florence Camp No. 286, M. W. of A., who can attend the funeral of Neighbour A. J. Dayton, are requested to meet at the hall Monday, Feb. 7th, at 1:30 o'clock. Funeral will leave Kimball's undertaking rooms at 2 o'clock with short service at the chapel at 2:30.

ELEVEN HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

FROM ASPHYXIA AT HOMAN HOUSE ON CHERRY STREET.

CHILDREN WERE OVERCOME

By Fumes Escaping from Coal Stove on Second Floor—Discovery Made at 3:30 This Morning.

With ten young people stretched out upon the beds and floor of the first story, the interior of Charles Homan's residence at 114 Cherry street, resembled an emergency hospital when Dr. E. N. Sartell arrived upon the scene in response to a hurried call at half-past four o'clock this morning. The eight Homan children and Mrs. Hilda Berg of Beloit and her sons, Frank and Charles, whose sleeping apartments had been located upstairs, were in a state bordering on asphyxia as the result of inhaling fumes escaping from a coal stove in one of the upper chambers. Some of the victims were in the throes of unconsciousness, others were unconscious, and others were in a semi-comatose state. Dr. Sartell, who registered alarmingly low, Dr. Sartell applied restoratives with all possible haste, and the sufferers placed where plenty of fresh air would be available, and worked over the group for over two hours before he could be satisfied that all were well on the road to recovery.

Fainted and Fell

It appears that Mrs. Berg and Miss Ethel Homan awakened about half-past three o'clock with a realization that something was wrong and attempted to light a match. But before this could be done each one fainted and fell heavily to the floor. The noise awakened some of the other sleepers and Mrs. Berg presently sufficiently recovered to give the alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Homan, who occupied a bedroom on the second floor, and who were quite oblivious to the danger that threatened those above, heard the sounds and lost no time in making their way to discover that the upper story reeked with coal gas and that the windows were frozen down. With all possible haste the doorway occupants were bundled down to the lower floor, the doors opened to admit more air, and a call sent for the physician.

Trouble with the Draft

There are five daughters and three sons in the Homan family. They are: Ethel, Clara, Ethel, Hazel, Edna, George, Carl, Benjamin. Mr. Homan is employed at the Janesville Machine Co. plant. No leak could be found in the stove and it is believed that some mysterious trouble with the working of the draft was responsible for the trouble.

TWO LOCAL BOXERS FIGHT AT MADISON

Ray Cox Defeats Young Stevens of Milwaukee—Wagner-Anton Bout Ends in Dispute.

Two Janesville boxers, who figured in bouts held by the Madison Athletic club in the Fuller opera house in the Capital City last night, gave a creditable account of themselves. Ray Cox won from Young Stevens of Milwaukee in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round bout and Kid Wagner's go with "Fighting" Anton of Milwaukee was called off in the third round. The Milwaukee Italian swung on Wagner while the latter was on his knees but the foul was not allowed and the men refused to continue. Cox weighed in at 124 and Wagner at 128.

In the other two contests, Walter Dauman of Milwaukee was over "Young" McGann of Madison in the fourth round at catch weights and Nels Larson of Stoutland handed Steve Strober of Madison a sleep producer in the third round. A large number of fans saw the contests, among them a big delegation from this city. The Bernstein instructor at the Athletic club, refereed the fights.

"BOSTON TERRIER" WAS SENT TO JAIL

Old-time Pugilist, Once a Near-champion, Sentenced for Being Drunk—Myers Also Jailed.

Two queer characters faced Judge Fildes in municipal court this morning charged with drunkenness. James McVey of Chicago, at one time a top notch prize fighter, and known as the "Boston Terrier," who celebrated the success of his two proteges, Cox and Wagner at Madison last night, attempted to act out the entire proceedings but was finally dismissed.

"I got a knockout and a draw last night, Judge. You see it was this way. I told the lad to let the Dago carry the fight to him and—"

"I'll add another knockout to your record," said Judge Fildes, breaking in on the recital. "Three dollars and costs or six days." McVey took the count gracefully.

Joe Myers, who has a steady "Yan" at Houghton, rode past that station last night from Madison. Joe has a bad habit of mistaking almost any place for home and when he gets sleepy, drooves on the spot. He also drew a fine of $5 and costs or six days in jail and accompanied McVey.

BELOIT WAS AWARDED DEBATE LAST NIGHT

Decision of Two of the Three Judges Was in Favor of the Line City Debating Team.

The Beloit high school debating team won the debate with the Janesville high school team held in the high school at Beloit last night by the decision of two of the three judges. The decision was a considerable surprise to many who felt that the Janesville speakers had won the debate and would surely be given the decision.

The Beloit team will now meet the winner of the Rockford-Bellevue debate for the championship of the College Inter-State Debating League. The judges were Dean Birge of the U. of W., Prof. Davies of Delavan, and Prof. Waugh of Beloit College.

The question discussed was: "Resolved, That for the next ten years the federal government should annually expend $50,000,000 for the improvement and construction of her inland waterways; constitutionally considered." The negative side of the question was defended by the Janesville team, George Yahn, leader, Will Hyde, and Lewis French. The team was stronger than last year, the young men having profited by their former experience. In defense of their side of the question they sought to show that comprehensive action on all internal improvements should be taken rather than on this one; that the cost of building the waterways should largely be borne by the states which received the benefits of it; that strict railroad regulation would not make more inland waterways necessary; that it was unwise policy fixed for a term of ten years owing to changing conditions; that to expend fifty millions a year would be wasteful; and that in case of a war, it would be saddling too great an expense upon the American people. The entire Janesville team delivered their speeches well.

About fifty from this city accompanied the team to Beloit and listened to the debate. The delegation from this city, members of the Janesville and Beloit high school faculties and the Janesville Junior High School, were given by members of the debating teams and others.

All Ready for Orange Week

Greatest Sale of

"Sunkist" Oranges

Sale Opens Everywhere on Feb. 7th

Forty-five carloads of seedless, tree-ripened "Sunkist" oranges will be on sale during "Orange Week." Your dealer—every dealer—will take part in this great sale. Keep the date in your mind.

Fresh-Picked "Sunkist" Seedless Oranges

"Sunkist" oranges fully ripen on the tree, thus giving them that matured deliciousness that only tree-ripening can effect, and fast freight trains, which are given full right of way wherever possible, bring "Sunkist" oranges to you. Hence your "Sunkist" oranges are just as fresh, if not fresher, than the fruit that is eaten in California cities.

These oranges are deliciously juicy and luscious. The California Fruit Growers' Exchange picks, packs and ships millions of bushels of oranges. The choicest of all these countless millions of oranges are carefully selected and they alone wear the "Sunkist" wrapper. Hence the "Sunkist" brand means orange perfection. The "Sunkist" wrapper is placed on these oranges so that you may know the highest quality oranges that California produces. Insist that the oranges you buy are wrapped in the "Sunkist" wrapper.

"Sunkist" Navel Oranges Are Seedless

They are tree-ripened, exquisitely rich in sweet orange juices and the pulp is deliciously tender.

"Sunkist" Lemons Highest Grade

"Sunkist" lemons are firm and full of juice, such as are found only in lemons that wear "Sunkist" wrappers. For "Sunkist" is also the highest grade of all the lemons grown in California. We select only those lemons that pass the rigid tests to which they are put by our experts, and the choicest are placed within "Sunkist" wrappers.

Save the Wrappers

It is important that the oranges and lemons you buy are wrapped in tissue paper coverings, bearing the "Sunkist" label. Not only are you assured of "Sunkist" quality but we will give you a Count him, for the locals, made a somewhat at play, taking the ball from an Evansville man and by dribbling yanked it to within throwing distance of the basket. The first half was close, the score ending 8 to 5. In the second half both sides put forth their efforts and the interest of the onlookers was great. The Evansville "Cardinals" did a little the better of it, carrying six baskets and allowing Evansville but two. The Bowler City made sixteen points in the second half and Evansville 7.
